VERVILLE - McCORD

Shirley McCord, daughter of Dr. Mrs. James I. McCord of Princeton, N. J., was married on Nov. 23, to Richard Emery Verville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Verville of Bethel. The ceremony of the bride, who is President of Princeton Theological Seminary, was performed by the Rev. Dr. Miller, Chaplain of the Seminary.

Shirley McCord, niece of the late Dr. Robert Verville, of Sudbury, Mass., was the bride's best man. Verville, brother of the late Dr. Verville, gave her away. Erica Verville, niece of the groom, was the flower girl, and James and Michael Zimmerman, twin nephews of the bride, served as ring bearers.

The bride is a graduate of New College and is a legislative assistant to Senator Thomas F. Wadsworth, of Missouri, in Washington, D. C.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP MEET

The Women's Fellowship of the Bethel Parish Congregational Church met on Oct. 27 for their monthly meeting. Mary Lyman opened with devotion, and the meeting was held in the presence of the help of "disciples." Frances Harding presented a fun and informative program on the music of the generation. Through her conversation, "oldie but goodie" Maude Lyman showed that the basic elements of music are present in all styles. Maude was surprised to find that some of the music of the era played by the younger generation—Bach was found to be and well!

The women's craft group met on Wednesday morning in preparation for the Christmas Fair on Dec. 4. Along with traditional tea, there will be a variety of crafts, Christmas decorations, candy, attic treasures, and goods, and a cookie walk. Contributions to each table will be appreciated.

BLOODMOBILE IN BETHEL

MONDAY, NOV. 22

AT WEST PARISH CHURCH

There are many ways of being a good neighbor, but on Monday, Nov. 22, the community of Bethel will take on the responsibility of being a good neighbor to the more than one million residents of Maine.

"Although the Portland Center for American Red Cross Services set a new record for blood collection last year in Southern Maine, exceeding its goal by more than 1700 units to collect a total of 39,964 units, the need for blood has increased dramatically," reports Deedee Kellogg, local coordinator for the blood drive. As Maine's 50 hospitals continue to expand and offer new treatments, more blood will be needed. Accordingly, the Portland Center has raised its collection goal to 42,214 units; to meet this, 170 units of blood must be collected every day in Southern Maine. Blood drives are the backbone of the collection process, and the support of such communities as Bethel enables the American Red Cross Blood Services to continue to meet growing needs.

Blood processing has become highly sophisticated, with much of the blood now broken down into its primary components: red blood cells, plasma and platelets. Patients are treated with only the

Hunters' Supper

Sat., Nov. 13 5:30 - 6:30

Northwest Bethel - West Bethel

— Clarice Gibson, Corres. —

Saturday deer hunting season on this road and I guess that a lot of hunters were out; but just haven't seen any deer on this side of the river so don't believe anyone had very good luck. As long as the ones were out hunting Saturday morning I went to a home decorating party at Pat Saunders. Others attending were Pat's mother, Eleanor Morton, Nancy Wright, Mary Jane and Betsy Gaudreau, Elaine Merrill, Andre Bernier and Robert Saunders. The demonstrator was Sandra Saunders from South Paris and while she was packing to leave, I got to talking with her. I had gone to school with her uncle and aunt and lived next door to another uncle who was married. In the afternoon Debbie Stearns had a toy party at Casco Bank basement with Honey Bailey demonstrating. Others attending from this road, Joyce Stearns.

Thelma Merrill came home from the hospital Nov. 3 and will be having the visiting nurse, Jan Stowell, in for awhile.

Mike and Matthew Smith from South Paris spent Saturday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith Jr. Also coming Saturday were Larry and Shawn Smith, Lovell, and Sally, North Conway, N. H., Bruce, Doug Smith, Christine Bachelder, Dennis Smith and Lisa Dooen for Homer Smith's birthday. One of Homer's gifts was a sailplane ride from Bethel airport which he took Saturday morning. Andy Smith also took a sailplane ride.

Frank and Sid Murphy had for Sunday supper guests, Frank's brothers, Roy Murphy, and Bill Murphy from Alameda, Calif., also Frank and Sid's son, Dean and family, of Sebago.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hammon, of Durham, N. H., were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hammon and girls. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hammon and girls went to Gorham, N. H., for supper and shopping over the weekend.

Ernest and Alberta Angevine went to Androscoggin Valley Hospital Saturday night to see Ernest's brother-in-law, Orla DeBois.

Evelyn Hilborn went to Ernest and Alberta Angevine's for a chicken dinner on Sunday.

Betty Gilbert joined other friends at Sheila Head's for Sunday supper. George and others are at Head's camp, hunting.

Evelyn Hilborn recently took Frances Farnum and Kay McAlister, Bryant Pond, and Louvie Coffin, West Paris, for a ride through Fryeburg, had lunch in Conway, and then through Kancamagus Highway. They came home by Twin Mountain.

Evelyn Hilborn and Phil Gilnes recently took a trip to Kimballs, South Waterford.

Nov. 1, Evelyn Hilborn and Bertha Flanders went to Norway and had lunch.

Thursday, Evelyn Hilborn and a friend, had dinner in Portland, and Friday Evelyn, and Bertha Flanders, Locke Mills, went to West Paris, then to South Paris for dinner. They then visited Frances Gammon in South Paris.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw and family, had her brother, David, Jody and two children, for visitors Friday, and Becky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Keniston were for dinner one evening over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Adams of North Lovell were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters.

Sunday, Macki Chapman took Vince, Danny Myers, Sarah Chapman and Julie Merrill to Rumford to see the movie "Joni". They then went bowling.

East Stoneham

— Gladys Kilgore, Corres. —

Hunters are arriving in town by the dozens. Hear a lot of shots. Poor animals, I pity them.

Have been told new neighbors are in the Thurston place but haven't any names so am not positive.

Thou Art Near
O love Divine, that stopped to share
Our deepest pang, our bitterest tear.
On Thee we cast each earth-born care.
We smile at pain while Thou art near.
Though long the weary way we tread,
And sorrow crowd each lingering year
No path we shun, no darkness dread.
Our heart still whispering "Thou art near."

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

Several days this past week gray veils have drifted across the fields, blotting the distant hills from view. When the sun peeped out it struck rainbows from the droplets on bushes and drew steam from damp roads. Little rumblings of rainwater chattered along the roadsides. The odor of wet earth and leaves was everywhere—the rich smell of autumn. The leaves torn from the trees, plastered the road like showers of pennies with their copper brightness. How different from last week, which gave us so much sunshine.

I managed some time each day to go out and get the freshness. My longest walk was two miles. I traveled between the ponds, on toward masses of soft gray clouds with silver edges and a lone camp on the hillside.

Near this spot I noticed a squirrel stretched out flat on a limb seeking warmth from a patch of sunlight. He whirled away toward a woodpecker hole in an old pine; plumed tail waving. Then he headed for the deep woods. Every now and then he'd perk to a stop, sit on his haunches to listen and sniff.

Up another tree he went to take a "high road," leaping along branches and from tree to tree. He stopped a moment to spring his alarm and that was the last I saw or heard from him.

I turned left here to go a short distance and view the tamaracs in their yellow, soft dresses against the blue water. Their needles were quietly falling. After each breath of wind the air was smoky with their drift. They are the only conifers that shed their leaves every fall.

There was one mallard left on the pond; beautiful, black with touches of bronze along its sides well fed and heavy—blue-green of wingbars shining in the sun. It climbed high winging north; a lone speck disappearing, then turned and came back. It circled over the pond then headed straight toward the south. I watched until it disappeared into the haze.

Cloud shadows and patches of sunshine followed each other, dappling my path.

The woods spread up the valley to the farthest point of my vision. I turned back to face for a time, north, then east, to go by the camp to a little used road down a hill, which led over trail Turtle Bridge.

Here I stopped to look for turtles. Usually there is at least one so on this very warm day I hoped to see one. They have interesting habits and are creatures of shallow, fresh water ponds with muddy bottoms and plenty of vegetation. This painted turtle is well named. Working in red and yellows it looks as if the dark shell at the edge by the legs, neck, and head had been painted by an artist.

SUNSET REBEKAH LODGE

Sunset Rebekah Lodge met Monday evening, Nov. 8, with Abbie Buswell as the new Noble Grand. Cards were sent to the ill and a sunshine box to Ann Patten. M.E.C.'s will have a pot luck supper, Nov. 22, at 6:30. It is a workshop to make the plaques and the regular Lodge meeting will be at 8 o'clock.

The shell is divided into sections by lines of pale yellow. The margin of the shell resembles an Indian pattern in red. Its under side is bright orange-yellow. They appear on stones and logs in the water, eat at special times, and sun at special times. Females leave the water to wander on land at egg laying time. She lays from two to 20 in a sandy hole which she digs with her hind legs, covers them and leaves them to hatch in two to three months. They didn't appreciate this warm day as much as I did for not one was at the bridge.

Homeward bound now I was in the main highway so to be home before the moon came toiling through space, struggling its way among blowing clouds. When darkness drops all these places I'll remember: the paths followed, the clouds reflected, the forest, and the solitary hills.

Duane Hayes and children, West Paris; Glenn and Rachel Hayes, Gray; visited their mother, Doris Hayes, on Saturday and some of them went hunting.

Frank Waterhouse, West Paris, called to see Bernard Morgan this week.

I attended the Delta Kappa Gamma meeting in Norway, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. "Buster" Waterhouse, Gorham; Mrs. Verna Libby, Falmouth, visited at the Hayes Homestead on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ralph and Regina Leeper, Rhode Island, came Friday evening to stay for the week end but before they arrived the Sheriff's Department called with a message for them of a death in the family so they returned to Rhode Island immediately. They called to see Frank and Dot Curtis. Their other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, East Sumner, and Kathy Curtis, and mother, Eva Fekton, Local.

North Paris

— Eveline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

A lovely day for the hunters to take to the woods, after a day of heavy rain. Now the woods will be safer from the matches dropped by the hunters. I hope everyone bags a deer or even a bear for the cold months ahead.

The hunters who went to Moosehead for the opening day of hunting came home with two partridges. They enjoyed their stay at camp. They hunted, Joe Vatcher covered six kitchen chairs with vinyl plastic on the seats and backs, Harlan did the cooking and Dick took charge. Dick Bean Sr. and son, Dick, came home Sunday evening and Joe and Harlan came home Tuesday afternoon in time to go to the polls. Seventy per cent of the registered voters in the Town of West Paris went to the polls, and that is good for West Paris.

Robert Anderson, Sr., of Burlington, Mass., will come to his trailer Nov. 8, for a week of hunting. His sister and brother-in-law, Millie and Mike Fucarele, Woburn, Mass., will come with him to keep him company and Mike will try for a rabbit or two, along with a deer.

FRIEDEN DORF OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 14

Frieden Dorf Distinctive Creations and Pottery Studio is holding its second annual Open House on Sunday, Nov. 14, from 1 to 5 p. m. at the studio/store in Bryant Pond.

Fay Corrin has been in the pottery business for six years now, beginning in the basement of her home. Then she moved to a studio in the woods which she built. The next step in the growth came with the purchase of the present store on Main Street in Bryant Pond in the summer of 1981. Business in the first year has been very successful; even better than she had hoped. A big thanks goes to the local people for their support.

Another benefit to the community with the location of the shop has been the involvement with Woodstock Elementary School. Last year all the students had a chance to work with a piece of clay and get it fired. Then the students took a walking tour of the studio. Many children on their own, have become involved as junior apprentices, helping with various aspects of the business.

Mrs. Corrin is pleased to announce that she has three full time apprentices working with her at the studio. They are Mike Dunn from South Carolina, Doris Langtue from Sanford and Andrea Asken from Connecticut. The apprentices will be around at the Open House, eager to meet the local people.

Frieden Dorf Distinctive Creations is open daily from 9 to 5 p. m. The variety of gifts include pottery, wooden boxes, mirrors and clocks, stained glass mirrors and scones, fiber-arts, copper and brass, hand-wrought blacksmithing by Paul Beaton of Bryant Pond, hand-dipped candles, art prints, photography, wooden toys, marionettes, hand-crafted cards, crystal ornaments and hand-crafted musical instruments.

Fay is inviting everyone to the 2nd annual open house on Sunday, Nov. 14 from 1 to 5 p. m. She hopes that people will come in to visit with friends and enjoy the warm atmosphere. Refreshments will be served and a 10% discount is being offered during the open house.

mer will follow the service. Women of the Tuesday Morning Bible Study are meeting at the parsonage at 9 o'clock and are preparing for a Christmas play.

Elderwood Manor

6-7-1 and of the distinct possibility that Telstar would be moved down into the Class C rankings next year. Coach Remington then presented plaques to Chris Mills as the MVP; Bruce Barth, the Best Offensive Player, and Ken Whitney as the Best All-Around Player.

Boys' and girls' cross country coach, John Applin, congratulated his very young and inexperienced squad for sticking out the season and performing very well in all the cross country meets. Mr. Applin also praised the efforts of Penny Fleet, who finished seventh in the regional meet at Portland and qualified for the state meet on Saturday, Nov. 6. He presented letters and certificates to Marty Reed, Andy McKinney, Jamie Meader, Ed Greenleaf, Jim Fiske, Jake Schachter, Penny Fleet, Dorie Chadbourne, Donna Dorey, Julie Hastings, Brenda Farnum, Theresa Roberts, Michelle Cummings, Debbie Wright and Vickie Wilson. Mr. Applin presented plaques to Marty Reed as Outstanding Runner for boys and Jim Fiske as the Outstanding Rookie Runner. Penny Fleet and Dorie Chadbourne received the Outstanding Runner and Outstanding Rookie Runner plaques respectively.

Telstar's field hockey coaches, Sally Hammon and Gail Wright, spoke at length about the fine season the field hockey team had this year. The Rebels were rated number one in the final MSSPA standings and made it to the semi final round of the tournament before losing a 1-0 heartbreaker to Dirigo. The Rebels also beat Sacopee twice during the season including a victory at Sacopee which snapped a three year unbeaten streak at home for the Hawks. Goalie Jodi Seidell recorded eight shut outs during the year and freshman inner Penny York got 14 goals, a record for Telstar field hockey.

Coach Hammon gave varsity letters and pins to Georgia Gould, Vicki Dyer, Chris Davis, Kathy Swain, Dale Robbins, Gerri Gauthier, Joyce Gauthier, Laurie Vogt, Cindy Fiske, Sally Thompson, Tammy Poland, Jodie Seidell, Penny York, Becky Roberts, Lisa Westleigh and managers Kelly Savage, Mary Poland and Robert Hoyt. Newry

— Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres. —

Newry Selectman, Roger E. Hanscom said he felt that there were several reasons why the voters rejected the District's proposal to build a new elementary school in the Town of Woodstock. First, he said he believed that the voters felt that money was tight and that the school might cost the District much more than the $56,250 figure presented by the District. Hanscom said that he personally felt that there was a strong possibility that the State might either cut or discontinue the School Building Funding Program, which would mean that the District would have to pay off the bonds without State funding. Further, he said that many felt that several new schools had been built in the area in the last 15 to 20 years, used a few years, then closed. Further he said that he believed that many Greenwood and Newry citizens resented the fact that they were paying two to three times more per pupil than the other three towns in the District, and that these Towns had refused to change the formula for distributing school costs to a more equitable method, and that the schools in their towns had been closed. He also said that he felt that many did not favor the proposed site and that was a factor.

Starting Sunday, Nov. 14, and continuing through December, there will be a special children's service at the beginning of regular worship service at 9 a. m. at Newry Community Church. All children are invited to attend.

The Newry Day Extension Group will meet Nov. 17, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Iola Forbes. The subject will be Health.

LOCKE MILLS CONTRADANCE

BEING HELD NOV. 20

A Contradance with live music by "Carolyn and Friends" will be held Saturday, Nov. 20, at 8:30 p. m. at the Greenwood Town Hall in Locke Mills. All ages are welcome. All dances will be taught. Beginners are welcome and are encouraged to come and try this old New England past-time. Sponsored by the Locke Mills Union Church, donations will be requested. Refreshments are to be served. 45-46

The Boosters are going to have a membership drive shortly and Mr. Brown stated that the next meeting was to be held Nov. 10 at 7 p. m. in the high school library. He again praised the athletes, parents, and community members for their support, and mentioned that the winter sport season practice sessions were to begin on Nov. 8.

WEEK END SAILPLANING AT THE AIRPORT
Saturday morning dawned cool and clear, a welcome change from the week long spell of poor weather. Strong winds—and tell-tale clouds both showed promises of good soaring conditions. Early that morning the tow plane flew down to Turner to aero-tow another sailplane back to Bethel. During the tow back however the aircraft encountered very rough air (something often found on good soaring days) and the tow rope broke, forcing the sailplane to return to Turner to land.

By the time the tow plane landed at Bethel Dave Robinson had the other glider ready, and took a tow to 2,700 feet and from there he was able to climb to 11,500 feet. After a flight of 90 minutes he landed and Louis C. Paul with student, Mary Ellen Chapman took it up to 13

Haven't had much response to the Flea Market we are hoping to have on Dec. 12, from 1 to 5 p. m. Those interested in having table space contact Russell Yates, Peggy Blake, Josephine Tripp or Laura Hutchins. If we don't get enough customers interested to make it worthwhile, and have to cancel it, any reservation fees will be refunded. However, if we hold the flea market, and you don't come, but have paid for a table, there will be no refund. It is a good chance to sell items for Christmas.

Saturday, I went to Sweden with my sister, Laura Hutchins. We visited her son, Greg, and family.

Sunday, we had a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard White from Auburn. They had come up to see her mother, Peggy Blake, and called here for a visit, too.

Always things to do and places to go to keep one busy, but we do miss the soft tinkle of the bell across the way.

Sunday River

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

Rather a dreary week, as far as weather was concerned. Not too much sunshine, but quite mild for this time of year.

Russell and I started the week good by going to Rumford on business and pleasure too? Did a little shopping, and they have so many things ready for Christmas and putting more on the shelves every day. It is fun to look at all the goodies, even when you can't buy.

In the evening, Russell, Peggy and I went up to visit Bryce and Barbara Yates. While there, they showed us pictures taken while on a skiing trip to Italy; also Colorado while visiting Brother Tom. It was better than going to the movies, and the scenery was spectacular. Of course, we could pick out Barb in her pretty red outfit real well? They also showed a few pictures of a fishing trip, and each fisherman showed off what he or she had caught. The fish looked good enough to eat.

Wednesday we were off again, but this time to Bridgton and Fryeburg, where I had to see the doctor. We went early so we stopped at a Bridgton store to look around. They have so many things for sale, and not as much space as one would expect. It was fun seeing all they have.

Thursday night was Grange meeting at Bear River Grange Hall. Not a very big turnout but had lots of business to tend to after our pot luck supper, so went at it.

Don't forget the (turkey and all the fixings) basket to be awarded at the next meeting, Nov. 18.

This meeting will also be Gentlemen's Night, and we hope for a big turnout. Pot luck supper at 6:30.

Safety Tip of the Week

S.A.D. 44 ADULT CO-ED VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

In hardfought competition at the Telstar Gym on Wednesday, Nov. 3, the Tanglefoots wrenched the League lead from the Awesomes, and captured first place by a single game. The Only Team and the No-Names are tied for third place, six games out of first place, trailed by the Crazy Eights, at eight games out. The Enforcers won their first game of the fall season, beating the Crazy Eights.

Volleyball players are reminded that the league will begin at 7:30 for the remaining weeks of the season, because of high school basketball practice.

League coordinator Rick Whitney reports that attendance is holding up well, and that the arrangement of holding all league games at the Telstar gym on two courts is working out well. The final night of Volleyball will be Wednesday, Nov. 17, with plans for a Mid Season League to begin after the February vacation.

NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

High unemployment is on the minds of concerned citizens, the unemployed, private firms, and government bodies from local town to Washington. Recently, members of the management team at the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest identified opportunities to help out in whatever way possible. Unfortunately, no job vacancies exist, and none are projected for the immediate future. The opportunities that follow may not be of interest to the average citizen; however, to those who find one or two items of interest, you are encouraged to write or telephone for information.

Every year we award a number of small contracts or purchase orders. Several have already been awarded for Fiscal Year '83. Some contracts or services rendered require heavy equipment or expertise in a given trade, while others do not. Bids will be solicited for the following activities in FY83: operation and maintenance of the Gilead Picnic Area; maintenance of Forest-Service roads; janitorial work and snowplowing (September, '83); fuel oil; exterior painting; roofing of several buildings; contract typing; tree planting; timber stand improvement; and maintenance of wildlife openings (mowing equipment required).

Applications for seasonal employment will be available after Dec. 1. Although opportunities are limited, some hiring does occur for National Forests in the Northeast and across the country. Applications must be submitted before Jan. 15, 1983.

It is getting late for obtaining firewood for use this winter, but free firewood permits are still available for gathering dead and downed wood from District lands. Ongoing timber sales are off limits, but recently closed sales and roadides are available for gathering firewood.

Citizens interested in gaining job experience while volunteering their services for conservation related projects may apply for limited openings in the District's volunteer program. Prospective employers are given recommendations concerning the volunteer's work ethic and experience.

We are sensitive to the plight of the unemployed. While we are limited as to what we can do, we will continue to review our existing programs and solicit ideas for additional opportunities.

District Ranger

NEWS FROM ADULT AND COMMUNITY EDUCATION

A class in Career Education has been added to the program of studies for the adult high school diploma students who are in the 17-22 year-old bracket. The class is taught by Dan Hart, who is the guidance counselor at Telstar Regional High School. Six students are enrolled in the class at present, and meet for 45 minutes each week from 5:45-6:30 prior to regular evening classes. Subjects to be covered in the course are career information/resources, decision-making, interests, goal-setting, job applications, interviewing skills, on-the-job issues, and a self-evaluation. Each student meets individually with the instructor in addition to participating in the class. The services of Mr. Hart are available to all adult high school diploma students by appointment, with the class having been set up to meet the special needs of the younger students.

One of the required activities included in the Current Problems class taught by Rod Abbott was that the students who are over 18 vote on Election Day, and that all students follow the election returns. One student who had not voted since 1960, did vote on Nov. 2, and another enrolled as a new voter. Four other of Mr. Abbott's students were spotted at the polls. The class meeting immediately following Election Day focused heavily on political events.

A look ahead at the Adult and Community Education events planned for 1983 finds a clinic on Wall-paper Hanging scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 18, with a snow-date of Jan. 25. This will be presented courtesy of the Sherwin-Williams store in Rumford. The S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program, borrowing an idea from the Mt. Desert Island Community Education program, will introduce a series of "Cabin Fever Specials" during January and February. These will be one-night programs, with scheduled snow-dates. Suggestions for topics may be made to the Adult and Community Education Office, 824-2136.

Reminder: Thursday, Nov. 11 is a holiday. There will be no S.A.D. 44 Community Ed. at Telstar Regional High School that evening.

South Woodstock - Olive Davis, Corres.

The Adventist Church celebrated Halloween in a novel way this year. Instead of asking for treats for themselves they made cute loaves of bread and brought them to many homes. Those coming to my house were Avis, Alan, Tommy and Greg in Kay Schroe's car. They brought a nice note which said: "Dear Friends, This Halloween instead of going out for treats ourselves, we decided to give you a treat. This little loaf of whole wheat bread was hand made by the youth of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in South Woodstock. The ingredients in it are simple, wholesome and prepared with you in mind with a lot of love. We hope you will accept this love gift and enjoy it as we have enjoyed making it and giving it to you. Love in Christ, Pastor Tom Shroer."

This had a winking jank-o-lantern on it. I am sure, where ever they called, and there were many, the people were pleased with their thoughtfulness. I know I was. I've always loved our young people and glad to see them going the right way in their lives. Thank you and may you be faithful to our maker and may God bless you. We love you.

Olive Davis attended Pomona Grange at Norway with Carl and Lettie Brooks, Tuesday night. Sixteen pupils in the Forest Dale Adventist Church had a field trip to Boston Museum of Science Wednesday. There were eight adults who went along with them as chaperones. They had a picnic lunch on the grounds and spent from 10 o'clock to 4 in the museum. It was a very educational trip.

Roy Cummings represented the Barracks.

The silent auction was a success. Frances Bennett and Maud Danforth were in charge of this event. Thanks for those who helped to make it possible.

Olive Head, Sunshine Chairman, gave her report of get well cards (four). Mabel Robertson and Tony Croteau are on the sick list and will be remembered.

A Christmas dinner is on the agenda for December. Members are to bring salads and desserts. Maud Danforth will be in charge of the tree and gifts.

A donation was given to Togus for the Veterans Christmas Fund. One also for the game party. This is a yearly event. Frances Bennett, Hilda Donahue and Rose Taylor are in charge of the dinner.

An Americanism program was presented by Chairman Thelma Conant. Poems were read for Veterans Day and Thanksgiving.

The World War I Auxiliary plans on attending the veterans' dinner and other activities at Locke Mills Legion Hall, Thursday, Nov. 11. Our boys must not be forgotten.

tion between Bethel and other metropolitan centers, benefitting local businesses and individuals. Train and bus routes have met their demise and roads to other towns are controlled by the State; control of a Bethel Airport would remain with local citizens through the Town meeting process.

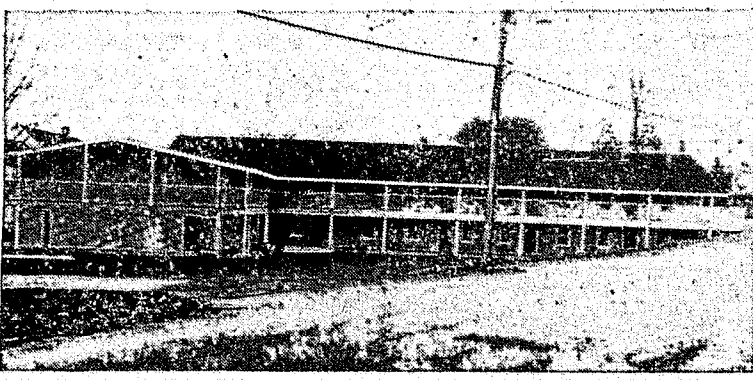

Special technical expertise is not a prerequisite for service on either the Planning Board or Airport Advisory Committee. Instead, individuals are needed with a wide variety of interests who will participate in developing policy and solving problems. If you are interested in serving, please contact the Town Office or any member of the Board of Selectmen.

Response to the cable TV programming questionnaire has more than tripled this week from the initial 26 returns. If you plan to be a subscriber and have not submitted your programming preferences (that will be used to conduct negotiations with the potential cable TV vendor) you are encouraged to do so by picking up blank questionnaire from the Town Office lobby.

The Board of Selectmen met in regular session Monday, Nov. 8, in the Bethel Savings Bank meeting room. Sylvia Clanton was appointed as a constable with limited powers until March 1983. The 1982 special projects list and the Town's October financial statement were reviewed before lengthy budgetary discussions in the areas of Protection, Health, Welfare, Sanitation (solid waste) and Leisure Services. By plan, discussions centered on proposals for future projects leaving specific monetary decisions for a later meeting.

The Board of Selectmen will meet next in special session at 7 p. m., Monday, Nov. 15, in the Bethel Savings Bank meeting room with all members of the Community Safety and Law Enforcement Committee, Planning Board, Recreation Board and the Airport Advisory Committee to review 1982 activities and highlight proposed 1983 endeavors.

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

On Friday evening the Society's Museum Committee held the annual Guide's Dinner to honor all volunteers who have helped with the Moses Mason Museum during the past year. Following a delicious boiled dinner prepared by members of the Museum Committee, Chairman Judith Haskell thanked all those who had helped make the 1982 season such a successful one and expressed the hope that everyone would be able to continue their service in 1983. Mrs. Haskell stressed that volunteers are essential to carry on the functions of the museum and how fortunate the volunteer program has been to have such a fine group willing to share their time for the benefit of a worthwhile cause. NEWS FROM POOH CORNER

The children began practicing for their Thanksgiving program this week! They made paper plate turkeys and sang "Over the River and Through the Woods." They talked about things to be thankful for and decided that Moms and Dads were special.

They made foot prints for letter R, leaf people, and farm animal puppets, played a number game called "What's Missing?" and they graced vegetables and acted out Three Billy Goats Gruff.

For snack times, snacks made were banana bread, nutritious brownies, peanut butter custard, and carrot salad.

Special helper was Kyle Moran.
